for 1958 before an Acreage Reserve Agreement can be approved by the County Committee.

Must Meet Rules
In order to comply for Acreage Reserve payments a producer must comply with all Acreage Reserve rules established for the farm. In other words, a producer who is putting cotton in the Acreage Reserve must plant cotton in excess of that permitted after deducting the Acreage Reserve from the 1958 allotment. Likewise, a producer who rents corn land to the Acreage Reserve must not be permitted to exceed the acreage placed in the Acreage Reserve from the 1958 corn allotment. If other cotton, or corn is placed in the Acreage Reserve, the producer must not over-plant peanuts on that farm. In addition to complying with the acreage allotments, all producers must also stay within the Soil Bank base established for the farm. Should any producer have any questions about whether a crop is counted in this Soil Bank base, he should consult the county committee at the time he signs his Acreage Reserve Agreement.

The average Coffee county farmer should understand the four following things, Mr. Gunter stated in conclusion:

1. The cotton planted plus the acreage of cotton put in the Acreage Reserve cannot exceed the 1958 cotton allotment established for the farm.
2. The corn planted plus the acreage of corn put in the Acreage Reserve cannot exceed the 1958 corn allotment established for the farm.
3. The farm must not harvest peanuts in 1958 in excess of the Acreage Reserve, the acreage of peanuts planted, all grains planted for harvest as the Soil Bank base in most instances. The remaining part of the Soil Bank base may be planted in miscellaneous crops.
4. The corn planted plus the acreage of corn put in the Acreage Reserve cannot exceed the 1958 corn allotment established for the farm.

TRAFFIC DEATHS CUT ONE-HALF IN THIS COUNTY
Deaths from automobile accidents in Coffee County have been cut one-half in the total number of deaths in this county since 1957, according to the Highway Patrolmen E. C. Fordham and W. E. Stewart.

There were seven deaths in automobile accidents in this county last year as compared with 15 in 1956, the patrolmen said.

However, there was a slight increase in the total number of accidents. There were 194 last year while the year previous there were 169.

Injuries were reduced from 65 in 1956 to 55 in 1957, they said.

R. W. Higgins, sergeant of the Dothan Post which includes Barbour, Coffee, Dale, Geneva, Henry and Houston counties, said there were reductions all along the line of the area as a whole.

Accidents fell from 719 to 661 in 1957, Higgins said. Injuries fell from 391 to 295 and fatalities from 68 to 39 between 1956 and 1957, Sergeant Higgins said.

This trend was in keeping for the state as a whole which showed 11,100 rural traffic accidents during 1957, which was 1,103 less than 1956.

All these figures pertain to accidents which occur outside city limits.

Mr. Lee was born and reared in Elba, the son of the late Charles S. and Ida Lee.

COASTAL CROP ACREAGE IS UP IN THIS STATE

Auburn—Coastal bermuda is a crop with a future. And if its past progress is any indication of what it holds in store for Alabamians, farmers need just better hold onto their hats.

For the state's coastal bermuda has grown in the past seven years from a 500-acre crop to its present day acreage of 81,000. And the road ahead still looks prosperous for coastal.

"There is a good reason for this rapid increase in acreage," Agonomist O. N. Andrews said here this week. "Many farmers have given coastal a fair trial and they like it."

The API Extension specialist pointed out a couple of examples to illustrate the popularity of coastal bermuda.

"A grade-A dairyman in Escambia County planted four

BROILERS NEED SPECIAL CARE ON COLD DAYS

Auburn—January is a time for extra precautions on the part of poultrymen. The buildings in which birds are housed must be kept warm and comfortable at all times, even though the weather outside may be cold, wet and disagreeable.

API Extension Poultryman Hoyt M. Warren said that poultry houses should be well ventilated but without drafts. It's easy for litter in the house to become wet and caked.

LAND SHOULD BE PLOWED BEFORE JANUARY RAINS

Auburn—January mornings are frosty and cold, but they often grow into warm, sunny days.

And during this mild, weather-wise gardeners can be seen plowing their fields, breaking ground for the seedling of early spring vegetable crops.

The specialist said that proper ventilation takes judgment on the part of the producer. He explained that conditions vary with different types of houses and different ages of birds, young chicks need more heat and less air, and older chickens need more ventilation.

An experienced broiler grower can tell whether chicks are comfortable by watching their actions, said Warren. However it's a good idea to have a thermometer for each broiler if the broiler is heated by gas or electricity. Check the temperature to make sure it's right, especially if the chickens are young.

When litter around the waterers becomes caked, remove it and add fresh litter. In washing the drinkers, make sure no water spills over.

"NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE"

During recent years many new medical treatments have been perfected. Some of the diseases that have plagued mankind for ages have been conquered.

There are still more to be overcome, but in due time they, too, will be mastered. So many research, physicians, scientists and chemists are devoting their lives to this work that truly no disease will eventually be impossible to cure.

We are glad that it is our privilege to share in this important work by supplying the medicines that fight disease.

AT HOME. This is a picture we had looked forward to making. And we finally found a time when popular Carolyn and Jim Paternos were "at home" in their house on the Brantley Road. And since music is something everyone thinks of in connection with Jim, the Hi-Fidelity record seemed a perfect part of the picture.

The Paternos house is all newly decorated and Carolyn is enjoying trying her hand with draperies and rugs. We know the finished product will be just as attractive as the blonde Mrs. Paternos.

RECENTLY, we listed a few reasons that cause us to believe that Elba is the only place in the world to live. The showers given on Monday night for Dorothy and Raymond, whose lovely new home burned last week is certainly another reason to add to the already long list.

Official host for the party was the Baptist Church and the home of Mrs. Elba Brunson was chosen as the setting. The dining table was attractively decorated with pink candles.

HOME DURING THE HOLIDAYS was Jeanie G. G. of Birmingham. We had the pleasure of seeing her several times during the Christmas season and she, John and Mrs. Garrett came up the hill one winter afternoon for a brief visit.

MISSISSIPPI proved its popularity with Elbians during the recent season when several families visited there. Mr. and Mrs. John Brunson were there for two days to see their dear little granddaughter, Carolyn. And incidentally her attractive parents. And Bucky and Wiley Stanford took Susan and Charlotte to her parents for several days.

A VERY PLEASANT telephone conversation with "Zi" English caught us up with all their "comings and goings". She, Bill and Billy are living in Montgomery now and Bill is quite pleased with his work. Although Billy has been sick recently, Vi says he's feeling fine now and is "all boy". It seems impossible that this little boy, whom we will always remember in a soft shirt and short navy blue pants, is now learning to read and write. Vi says he is enjoying keeping house and likes the city fine.

LEARNED from Mrs. John Lowery that son John is working in Louisiana now with a construction firm. Knobby he's enjoying seeing that lovely state and, at the same time, gaining knowledge that will be of great help to him when he returns to college.

After taking a boiled ham from the hot water, dip it immediately into cold water to make the fat firm and white.

FIRST MEETING OF GREAT BOOKS GROUP IS HELD

The first meeting of the Elba Great Books discussion group was held Friday, January 10, at the Elba Public Library with eight persons present.

This meeting was devoted to an hour and a half discussion of the American Declaration of Independence and the next meeting tomorrow, Jan. 11, will be devoted to a discussion of the Apology and Crito by Plato.

A Great Books brochure describing the operations of the group says "here problems of ancient Greece merge with the six o'clock news. Here a guess made in medieval France is confirmed by a tale from a supermarket."

How well the Elba group lived up to this description may be gleaned from the fact that one of the members drew a parallel with the situation today in Little Rock, Ark., with the following complaints taken from the Declaration of Independence: "He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power."

"He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies without the consent of our legislature."

"For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us."

Parking Meters To Go Into Use Feb. 1

SCHOOL BOARD POST GIVEN UP BY JAMES WISE

Final adoption of a city parking meter ordinance, and the resignation of James J. Wise from the City School Board, marked the meeting of Elba City Council Monday.

Council met Saturday, Feb. 1, at the date on which automobiles which park downtown will begin to drop their pennies, nickels and dimes in the parking meters for the privilege of parking for a penny, one hour for a nickel or two hours for a dime.

Still to be considered by council is what to do about installing parking meters around the Coffee County Court House. This area is not included in the ordinance adopted by City Council and published elsewhere in this issue of The Elba Clipper.

Members of the City School Board, who have discussed with members of the County Commission about including this area in the ordinance but so far the two governing bodies have not arrived at an understanding.

James J. Wise, chairman of the City School Board, submitted his resignation at the meeting Monday night. Mr. Wise has been a member of the board for four and a half years and said he is submitting his resignation at this time so that a successor may be appointed in time to familiarize himself with school operations before the end of the present school term.

Before becoming a member of the City School Board, Mr. Wise was a member of the County School Board for seven years.

Council voted a donation of $25.00 to the Boy Scouts.

Council members present were Mayor H. C. Taylor and Councilmen Hawkins, Boswell, Johnson, Devane and Rainier.

For 1957, the social security tax rate is 4 and one half per cent (2 and one-quarter per cent for employer and employee). This tax applies to cash wages paid to a farm worker up to a total of $84.00 in the year. The tax amount must be entered on Form 945, Employer's Annual Tax Return For Agricultural Employees, together with the total amount of cash wages paid to the farm worker. It is required that the farm employer submit this form to the District Director of Internal Revenue at Birmingham, Alabama, on or before the date mentioned above.

Mr. Brown pointed out that when a farm employer meets with the 20-day a year test the farm employer should count only days for which the employee works for cash wages figured on a time basis. However, if the worker meets this test, the farm employer must pay social security taxes on all cash wages paid the employee during the year, whether on a time, piecework, or other basis.

Farm employees include household workers if they are employed on a farm operated for profit.

The Southeast Alabama Gas District, underwriting the Peanut Festival recipe contest, for the third year, gave $1,000 in prizes for winning recipes. The long-distance prize of $30 is awarded each year to the person submitting a recipe postmarked the greatest distance from Dothan.

Decision on the 1957 long-distance winner was held up while recipe contest and gas district officials confirmed the validity of Ryker's postmark. Although Ryker had written "Hong Kong, China," as his return address, the postmark read simply, "U.S.S. Princeton, October 3, 1957."

Mrs. Wilson, whose Tokyo-mailed recipe was long distance runner-up, gave no details of herself or her family. Her husband, who is a professional return address, however, was an Oriental tongue-twister.

"Care of Mr. John T. Cavanaugh," it read, "No. 924, 3 Chome Amano, Suganiku, Tokyo, Japan." As one Gas District official quipped, "It probably means 924 West Main Street, Tokyo, third floor."

Attendance banners were won by the sixth grade in Elementary School and eighth grade in High School.

BUT ONE WEEK LEFT TO FILE FOR FARM PAY

January 31, 1958, is the deadline for reporting the cash wages paid in 1957 to farm employees, Cecil Brown, Dothan District Director, Internal Revenue Service, stated today.

Farm operators or farm owners who have paid as much as $150 in cash wages to any farm worker in their employ during 1957 must file an employer's tax and information return for such farm employees. They must also report each farm employee who worked for them 20 or more days during 1957 regardless of the amount of wages if they were figured on a time rather than a piece rate basis.

For 1957, the social security tax rate is 4 and one half per cent (2 and one-quarter per cent for employer and employee). This tax applies to cash wages paid to a farm worker up to a total of $84.00 in the year. The tax amount must be entered on Form 945, Employer's Annual Tax Return For Agricultural Employees, together with the total amount of cash wages paid to the farm worker. It is required that the farm employer submit this form to the District Director of Internal Revenue at Birmingham, Alabama, on or before the date mentioned above.

Mr. Brown pointed out that when a farm employer meets with the 20-day a year test the farm employer should count only days for which the employee works for cash wages figured on a time basis. However, if the worker meets this test, the farm employer must pay social security taxes on all cash wages paid the employee during the year, whether on a time, piecework, or other basis.

Farm employees include household workers if they are employed on a farm operated for profit.

The Southeast Alabama Gas District, underwriting the Peanut Festival recipe contest, for the third year, gave $1,000 in prizes for winning recipes. The long-distance prize of $30 is awarded each year to the person submitting a recipe postmarked the greatest distance from Dothan.

Decision on the 1957 long-distance winner was held up while recipe contest and gas district officials confirmed the validity of Ryker's postmark. Although Ryker had written "Hong Kong, China," as his return address, the postmark read simply, "U.S.S. Princeton, October 3, 1957."

Mrs. Wilson, whose Tokyo-mailed recipe was long distance runner-up, gave no details of herself or her family. Her husband, who is a professional return address, however, was an Oriental tongue-twister.

"Care of Mr. John T. Cavanaugh," it read, "No. 924, 3 Chome Amano, Suganiku, Tokyo, Japan." As one Gas District official quipped, "It probably means 924 West Main Street, Tokyo, third floor."

Attendance banners were won by the sixth grade in Elementary School and eighth grade in High School.

LAG IN STATE HIGH SCHOOLS IS EXPLAINED

The reason 246 Alabama white schools, including Elba High, aren't accredited by the Southern regional accrediting agency, was explained last week by A. R. Meadows, State Superintendent of Education.

Inquiry at the offices of the principal of Elba High and city superintendent of schools revealed that the explanations offered by Superintendent Meadows applied in most instances in Elba.

Mr. Meadows said that one of the most frequent weaknesses is too many pupils per teacher and too many pupils per class for some classes. The regional standard is violated if a teacher has more than 166 pupils per day in all classes combined or more than 40 pupils in any single class.

Two Many Men. Elmer Taylor, who resigned as principal January 1, to take charge of vocational education, said that in Elba High some teachers have as high as 180 pupils in all classes combined and that the explanations offered by Superintendent Meadows applied in most instances in Elba.

Mr. Meadows said that poor library facilities is another frequent weakness. The standard requires a trained librarian for each high school and additional trained librarians for large high school enrollments, with at least five times as many library books as pupils.
